

Sally Knight

Senior Director, Lead to Support Transformation
Thomson Reuters

INDUSTRY:

BUSINESS INFORMATION

What is the best part of your job?

Working with diverse and talented people across the world and learning something new every single day.

Biggest learning moment of your career?

If someone doesn't agree with you at work; it doesn't mean they don't like you. Listen, learn and take opposing opinions with positive intent.

What does Black history month mean to you?

Awareness and celebration. I want to learn about black history and culture to celebrate accomplishments but also plan actions to overcome obstacles. Everyone has a role to play to ensure we live in an inclusive society.

What advice would you give to your 16year-old Self?

Take a Computer Science degree and apply for apprenticeship programs.

Why is being a positive role model important to you?

Inspiring people to achieve their full potential and overcome barriers or fears. It's important to me that I model a positive attitude and instil determination, integrity and compassion.

What is your top tip to success?

Be bold!

Don't be afraid of taking on new opportunities even if they are scary – fail fast and learn fast.

What is your greatest achievement?

I started at Thomson Reuters 15 years ago as a temporary Executive Assistant. I am now a Senior Director in Product & Service Strategy transforming our IT business systems.

What are you listening to?
Podcast - The Guilty Feminist

Favourite food to boost your mood?
Cheese

Biggest change since lockdown?
Home Schooling

Ideal Mentor?
Michelle Obama

Role Model growing up?

My Grandmother