

Shaun Coltress

Station Commander – Special Operations
London Fire Brigade

INDUSTRY: FIRE & RESCUE

What is the best part of your job?

I really have the best of both worlds, one minute I could be in the office writing a new policy and the next, I could be summoned to attend a fire on blue lights.

Biggest learning moment of your career?

Everyday really is a School day and managing 8 teams across two Fire Station sites, previously having 6 people, taught me so much. Managing people really is an art and it takes time to do it well.

What does Black history month mean to you?

I think every month should recognise black history! We have achieved so much as a race and that should be celebrated all year round.

What advice would you give to your 16year-old Self?

Always smile, always be kind and don't lose sight of the ambition.

Why is being a positive role model important to you?

I'm a firm believer of it taking a village to raise a child. I want to be able to do my part by inspiring young people to achieve their goals, whatever their aspirations.

What is your top tip to success?

Don't be afraid to change direction if you don't get it right the first time, life is a journey.

What is your greatest achievement?

Buying my first house in the current housing environment at 26yrs old meant so much to me, it was the culmination of years of hard work.

What are you listening to?
Outraged by Dott

Favourite food to boost your mood?
Curry Chicken

Biggest change since lockdown?
No more holidays

No more holidays

Ideal Mentor?
Denzel Washington

Role Model growing up?
Grandfather

Grandfather